

REVIEW of the educational-professional program «International Business» of the first (bachelor's) level of higher education in the specialty 292 «International Economic Relations» of the National Aviation University

In modern conditions of development of international economic relations there is a need to train specialists in foreign economic issues who are able to make informed and considered decisions on the development of international business.

The structure of the peer-reviewed educational-professional program «International Business» training of higher education students of the first (bachelor's) level in the specialty 292 «International Economic Relations» includes the purpose, subject area, information about the features of teaching and assessing students' knowledge and skills. The educational and professional program defines general and special competencies, program learning outcomes. Professional competencies are practical in nature and can be used in the professional activities of future professionals.

The educational program includes all types of classroom and individual work of applicants, internships, provides in-depth study of foreign languages and translation practice, which allows in addition to professional competencies in the specialty «International Economic Relations» to acquire translator competencies. This approach to the organization of the educational process provides additional competitive advantages to future professionals.

In general, the educational-professional program «International Business» of the first (bachelor's) level of higher education in the specialty 292 «International Economic Relations» has a comprehensive and targeted approach to training qualified professionals with skills and competencies necessary for further professional activity in this specialty and is recommended for implementation at the National Aviation University.

(Position)

(Signature, stamp)

(Initial, surname)

