

REVIEW
on the educational and professional program "International Law"
for the training of applicants for higher education at the second (master's) level of specialty 293 "International Law" of the field of knowledge 29 "International Relations", developed by the Department of International Law and Comparative Law
of the National Aviation University

The educational and professional program "International Law" for the second (master's) level of higher education in the specialty 293 "International Law" of the field of knowledge 29 "International Relations" is a high-quality and well-structured program aimed at training future specialists in the field of international law. The program demonstrates a deep understanding of the needs and requirements of the modern world, where international law plays an important role in the regulation of international relations.

The advantage of this program is its comprehensive approach to the study of international law, which covers not only the theoretical aspect but also the practical skills necessary to work in the field of international relations. Students gain in-depth knowledge in various areas of international law, including human rights, international humanitarian law, foreign relations law, and others.

In addition, the program actively uses modern teaching methods, such as case studies, brainstorming, which helps students gain practical experience in real-life situations that they may encounter in their professional activities.

The program further provides opportunities for students to undertake internships and gain practical experience in international organizations, law firms, or NGOs. This exposure allows them to build valuable connections in the field.

Summarizing, it is worth noting that the educational and professional program "International Law" for the preparation of higher education applicants of the second (master's) level of specialty 293 "International Law" of the field of knowledge 29 "International Relations" is an excellent choice for those who want to become a qualified specialist in the field of international law, and it provides students with all the necessary knowledge and skills for a successful career as an international lawyer, translator.

dr hab. Edvardas Juchnevicius, prof. UG
Faculty of Law and Administration
University of Gdansk
Email: edvardas.juchnevicius@prawo.ug.edu.pl

Edvardas Juchnevicius

