

Athens, 4 March, 2024

REVIEW
on the educational and professional program
"INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC RELATIONS"
for the training of applicants for higher education at the second (master's) level in the specialty 292 "International Economic Relations"
of the field of knowledge 29 "International relations"
of the National Aviation University

In today's conditions, the state of Ukraine's economy and the development of its international economic relations require fundamental changes in the national system of personnel training, in particular for enterprises involved in international economic relations. The need to provide enterprises and organizations with qualified specialists in foreign economic affairs who are able to solve complex problems and make sound systemic economic decisions based on modern international law and diplomacy for all economic entities in the global economy is dictated by the need to find practical solutions and mechanisms that would allow the country to overcome the current situation and accelerate its full and complete involvement in the global economy. This necessitates the training of specialists with in-depth theoretical knowledge and practical experience in analyzing and forecasting changes in domestic and foreign markets, developing a strategy for foreign economic activity of enterprises and ways to implement it effectively. After all, a large number of national enterprises maintain business ties with foreign partners and have departments within their structure that are responsible for developing international cooperation and promoting products on the global market.

Joint ventures, companies with foreign investments, transnational corporations, etc. need such specialists. Given the above, the training of specialists in the educational and

16 Achaiou St., Kolonaki, Athens, GR-106 75
2 Polygnotou St., Athens, GR-105 55
64th km Athens-Sounion Ave., Legrainia, GR-195 00

T: +30 211 311 0671, F: +30 229 206 9813, Email: info@eplo.int WS: www.eplo.int professional program "International Economic Relations" of specialty 292 "International Economic Relations" of the field of knowledge 29 "International Relations" is relevant and meets the conditions and requirements of the times. Developed by the working group of the Department of International Economic Relations and Business of the National Aviation University, it provides for the training of specialists with predetermined qualities.

The reviewed educational and professional program provides for practical training, which makes it possible to consolidate theoretical knowledge and acquire certain program competences. The general and professional competences specified in the educational and professional program are relevant and meet the current requirements of the labor market. The curriculum fully meets the objectives of the educational and professional program "International Economic Relations".

The structural and logical scheme of the study of academic disciplines, their list and scope meet the requirements of quality training of applicants for higher education of the second (master's) level in the specialty 292 "International Economic Relations", designed to help ensure that the program learning outcomes meet the needs of employers.

In general, the reviewed educational and professional program "International Economic Relations" developed and implemented by the Department of International Economic Relations and Business of the National Aviation University meets the basic requirements of the higher education standard and contributes to the formation of professional competencies in the specialty 292 "International Economic Relations" of the field of knowledge 29 "International Relations".

Director, EPLO
(Position of the chairman)

(signature, seal)

SF, Flogaitis
(Initials, surname)